

2018-19 Senior Memory Book (7a semester)

Overview:

During this year (as a student in English 7A & 8A), you will complete a multi-genre book, a Senior Memory Book. It will consist of memories and thoughts from your life so far. It will be completed near the end of the year, however we will be working on it off and on all year, and some pieces will appear in your portfolio each semester.

The final product may be presented in either a scrapbook of your choice or in a loose-leaf, snap-ring binder. The size of the binder or scrapbook will be determined by how much you put into this memory book. To create the best memory book possible, it is important to plan in advance. Use the space provided to make notes outlining your overall plan. (More details on the end product next semester).

Throughout the memory book writings, there are ample opportunities for reflective writing and self-discovery, but please note the final product will probably end up viewed by both your parents and others, so keep anything too personal to yourself.

7A Requirements and Information:

Parts I, II, and III will consist of personal narrative/exploratory papers. These will be "full-length," multi-paragraph compositions. Some will be included in your digital portfolio as course-required essays; however, ALL of your completed pieces will be included in your final memory book at year end. * Most chapter descriptions include photos (pictures needed in final book only).

- In all chapters, be sure to explore the significance of events and importance of people and/or places in your life.

Part IV & Part V & Soundtrack will be multi-genre possibilities for next semester.

Evaluation:

During Fall Semester (7A) you will complete and finalize any 3(or 4) of these chapters and they will be submitted as part of your digital portfolio.

Final Evaluation (pre-view for 8A): If your Senior Memory Book is complete, organized, and shows creativity and thought, your grade on the project as a whole will be no less than an 85%. This means all typed chapters, focus pages, and reflections are included as clean copies, the chapters are in order, and the REQUIRED pictures are present. The more thorough and creative you are in decorating your book and its pages with extra pictures, drawings, stickers, or other visual enhancements, the higher your grade will be. Any book that does not contain the chapters, focus pages, and reflections requested (5 full chapters, 5 foci, 3 reflections, and soundtrack work) will receive a lower grade regardless of how fancy it is. Any book that is a bunch of "junk" thrown together or is presented in a format other than a scrapbook or binder will not be accepted. Any book handed in after the final due date will receive a MAXIMUM grade of 75%.
